VEGETINE
Purifies the Blood, Renovates and Invigorates the Whole System.
Its Medical Properties are ALTERATIVE, TONIC, SOLVENT AND DIURETIC.
VEGETINE is made exclusively from the juices of carefully selected barks, roots and herbs, and so strongly concentrated that it will effectually eradicate from the system every taint of Scrofula, Scrofulous Humor, Tumors, Cancer, Cancerous Humor, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Syphilitic diseases, Canker, faintness at the Stomach, and all diseases that arise from impure blood. Sciatica, Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Gout and Spinal Complaints, can only be effectually cured through the blood.
For Ulcers and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, Pustules, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, Tetter, Scaldhead and Ringworm, VEGETINE has never failed to effect a permanent cure.
For Pains in the back, Kidney Complaints, Dropsy, Female Weakness, Leucorrhœa, arising from internal ulceration, and uterine diseases and General Debility, VEGETINE acts directly upon the causes of these complaints. It invigorates and strengthens the whole system, acts upon secretive organs, allays inflammation, cures ulceration and regulates the bowels.
For Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Habitual Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Headache, Piles, Nervousness and General Prostration of the Nervous System, no medicine has ever given such perfect satisfaction as the VEGETINE. It purifies the blood, cleanses all of the organs, and possesses a controlling power over the nervous system.
The remarkable cures affected by VEGETINE have induced many physicians and apothecaries whom we know to prescribe and use it in their own families.
In fact, VEGETINE is the best remedy yet discovered for the above diseases, and is the only reliable BLOOD PURIFIER yet placed before the public.
Are not the many testimonials given for the different complaints satisfactory to any reasonable person suffering from any disease mentioned above, that they can be cured? Read the different testimonials given, and no one can doubt. In many of these cases the persons say that their pain and suffering cannot be expressed, as in cases of Scrofula, where, apparently, the whole body was one mass of corruption. If VEGETINE will relieve pain, cleanse, purify and cure such diseases, restoring the patient to perfect health after trying different physicians, many remedies, suffering for years, is it not conclusive proof, if you are a sufferer, you can be cured? Why is this medicine performing such great cures? It works in the blood, in the circulating fluid. It can truly be called the Great Blood Purifier. The great source of disease is the blood; and no medicine that does not act directly upon it, to purify and renovate, has any just claim upon public attention. When the blood becomes lifeless and stagnant, either from change of weather or of climate, want of exercise, irregular diet, or from any other cause, the VEGETINE will renew the blood, carry off the putrid humors, cleanse the stomach, regulate the bowels, and impart a tone of vigor to the whole body. The conviction is, in the public mind as well as in the medical profession, that the remedies supplied by the Vegetable Kingdom are more safe, more successful in the cure of disease, than mineral medicines. VEGETINE is composed of roots, barks and herbs. It is pleasant to take, and is perfectly safe to give to an infant. Do you need it? Do not hesitate to try it. You will never regret it.

WOULD NOT BE WITHOUT VEGETINE
FOR TEN TIMES ITS COST.
The great benefit I have received from the use of VEGETINE induces me to give my testimony in its favor. I believe it to be not only of great value for restoring the health, but a preventive of diseases peculiar to the spring and summer seasons.
I would not be without it for ten times its cost.

Attorney and General Agent for Massachusetts of the Craftsmen's Life Assurance Company, No. 49 Sears Building, Boston, Mass.

RALSTON AND HIS FORTUNE.

William C. Ralston was born in Pennsylvania, and at the time of his death was 45 years of age. He was a shoemaker in early life, but soon went to California, where he became interested in speculations, and also held a clerkship in a bank. About 1864 he organized the Bank of California, with O. Mills as president and himself as cashier. Mr. Ralston became the head of the Bank of California, though nominally its cashier. All its great enterprises were conducted through him, and even when Mr. Mills was present, business men always went to Mr. Ralston for consultation. About two years ago, Mr. Mills resigned the presidency, and Mr. Ralston became the real as well as nominal head of the bank. It was through his business abilities, almost entirely, that the bank attained its great influence and became so potent in all commercial, financial, and even political affairs. In 1867 the bank reached the zenith of its influence, and was then the most powerful corporation west of the Rocky Mountains. Mr. Ralston was the most popular man in California. His munificence had won him friends everywhere. His career is full of instances where he has kept from failure men who were on the verge of financial ruin. His mode of life was on a plan commensurate with the extent of wealth at his command. At Belmont Valley he built for himself a house costing, it is estimated, $1,000,000, and supported it with an annual outlay of $350,000. His house would accommodate 150 guests, and occasions were frequent when that number accepted his hospitality. His stables are built on a magnificent and extensive plan. Some years ago he had some difficulty with the railroad which leads to Belmont Valley—a distance of 30 miles—and then providing himself with a light buggy and having relays of horses stationed along the road, drove every day to and from San Francisco in less time than the train could make. He was the last man at his office at night and the first one in the morning. He was known as a good liver, and won many friends by his generosity and hospitality. Mr. Ralston's fortune was recently estimated at over $20,000,000, and this is probably no exaggeration, since it is known that for some years he was uniformly successful in his speculations. Scarcely a mine, or a railroad, or any enterprise on the Pacific slope has been attempted without his aid, and such was his power in the politics of California and Nevada, that it was through his influence, backed of course, by the money of the bank, that Jones and Sharon were sent to the Senate.

There is no doubt that these Senators are large holders of the bank stock. Last Spring Mr. Ralston, under a pressure of pecuniary difficulties, sold his share of the great Palace Hotel to Senator Sharon, and recently he transferred his title to twenty-five sections of land to J. D. Fry, a fellow director in his bank, for $90,000—a sum which was commented on as ludicrously low. These transactions portended the coming storm, but up to the very last the San Franciscans seem to have had unlimited confidence in their model financier and full trust in the bank he guided. Not so great however, was the confidence among New York bankers. For the past sixty days most of the California bills offered in this market have been those of other institutions endorsed by the Bank of California, a fact indicating that the bank had hypothecated securities with those who lent their bills, and that this borrowed exchange was used to obtain the money needed to carry on the large transactions of the bank. Among the borrowed bills that have been disposed of in this market were those of the Bank of British Columbia and the Bank of North America. One reason, perhaps, for the distrust of the Bank of California entertained by the New York bankers was the report of the oriental magnificence in which its president lived. Those who have enjoyed his hospitality at his lordly county seat in Belmont, about twenty five miles out of San Francisco, say they never saw money so lavishly spent. Mr. Ralston maintained relays of horses from San Francisco to his country house, and travelled post from and to his business in the city, saying that in this way he could beat the time of the locomotive. His country seat has twenty five or thirty suites of apartments, and the dining room affords accommodation for over one hundred guests, a number more than once seated at the hospitable board.

SALT LAKE.

A writer in the Galaxy says: "We drove for an hour along the southern bank of Salt Lake, fanned by the breath of its sea air, and looking over its waste of waters dotted with mountain islands. It required but little imagination to transport ourselves to the shores of the Atlantic, for extending as it does ninety miles to the north, no land could be seen beyond the line of the clearly defined horizon. Some years ago a steamboat of three hundred tons was built for freight and passenger traffic, in connection with the Union and Central Pacific roads; but her fair prospects were ruined by the construction of the Utah Central, and she now lies at the wharf, her only value being her aid in making our imaginary ocean seem more real. How this great basin of salt water came to be deposited in the interior of the continent has been a study for geographers and naturalists. The water is so densely saline that it is impossible for a body to find the bottom. It is a capital place to acquire the art of swimming with perfect safety. In former times three barrels of water left to evaporate would produce one barrel of salt; but the freshening within the last twenty years has so weakened it that now four barrels of it are required to obtain that quantity. It has become fresh, therefore, in a proportion of somewhat more than one per cent. yearly. Hence it follows that in less than a hundred years the name of Great Salt Lake should be changed; for by this time it will, like Mormonism, be cleared of all its impurities. I have previously noticed the regular water lines, called benches, which are so distinctly defined on all the mountain ranges surrounding those various valleys and which afford such unmistakable evidence that in former days they enclosed vast inland seas. The deep alkaline soil of the bottoms has led to the supposition that the seas were of salt water, and that all of them, excepting this, have been completely evaporated, Salt Lake being the sole survivor, and that being destined to dwindle to a puddle and then to dry up forever. But the last part of this theory is negatived by the evident intention of the lake to assume somewhat of its original proportions; while it is becoming fresher it is growing larger. Within the twenty seven years that the country around it has been settled it has encroached all along its low banks nearly a mile upon the land and deepened five feet. Several fine farms are now permanently under water and the road on which we travelled has been moved far inward to accommodate its aggressiveness. At the same time that this change is going on atmospheric causes for a part of it are apparent. The climate is becoming more mild, although it is still excessively dry. But each succeeding season brings a greater rainfall. This has doubled within twelve years."

AUTUMNAL NEWPORT.

With the advent of Autumn comes what is in many respects the pleasantest portion of Newport's year. The heat of July and the fog and rain of August are gone. The days are warm enough for riding and cool enough for walking, while the nights give the most refreshing and invigorating sleep. If our Springs are liable to be cool and damp they are abundantly compensated for by our long and delightful Autumns when Winter long delays his unwelcome arrival, and Summer lingers in all his attractiveness, but without his violence.

The Ocean House contains about seventy five more guests than it did at this time one year ago, and we understand that many of our cottage residents will remain later than usual this year. It is high time that our birds of passage understood their mistake in hurrying back to the city so soon as the fogs of dog days have lifted enough to allow them to find their way home. Newport deservedly stands first in the Home Journal's list of "Autumn Resorts."

The clear air of September and October is a better tonic than the knights of pestle and mortar can compound. The hours when riding is comfortable are longer in the Fall than in the Summer. For persons fond of exercise there is no comparison between the two seasons. The long rows on the bay and rambles about the island which would prove fatiguing in July and August are thoroughly enjoyable in the next two months.

Newport cannot boast the gorgeous Autumnal foliage of the White and Green mountains, of Berkshire county, Massachusetts, or of the Erie railroad line as painted by Cropsey. But if our land seem tamer we have the ever beautiful sea and the waves are our substitute for the maple and the sumac. More healthful air and more beautiful prospects than those of Newport we challenge any resort to produce.

MR. EDWARD KING.

It is with the deepest regret that we announce the death of our fellow citizen Mr. Edward King. A native of Newport, he was well known and beloved by many of our townspeople. Leaving his native place at an early age he started in commercial life and soon went to China, where his ability, integrity and remarkable business capacity placed him at the head of the well known house of Russell & Co., before he had been there many years.

He continued in this position till his return here when he at once began a series of improvements which have probably done more in giving direction and permanence to the growth of Newport than the labors of any other one man among us.

His character was one that may well be studied and followed by the young of our day. Quiet and simple in his manners and tastes, he seldom let his right hand know what his left hand was doing, but many an humble heart has felt that in his removal it has lost a true friend, a careful adviser and a benevolent helper.

Of late years he has been abroad several times, and by his taste and good judgment has surrounded his family with many works of art of which he was a devoted admirer. At the time of his death he was the president of the Redwood library to which institution he had been a liberal donor.

Truly a good man has passed from among us—an honest man in its broadest sense has gone. May he rest in peace.

AN IMPERIAL GOURMET.—A writer says: It is not singular that the imperious Cæsar should have been infected with the sensuousness of his age, and proved himself an epicure, albeit one of elegant and dainty manners. Curtius says of the Rome of Cæsar's day: "No sort of luxury flourished so much as the coarsest of all—the luxury of the table. The whole villa arrangements and the whole villa life had ultimate reference to dining. Not only was the cook a graduate in gastronomy, but the master himself often acted as the instructor of his cooks. The circumstance of the guest taking an emetic after a banquet to avoid the consequences of the varied fare set before him no longer created surprise." The same author has reproduced the bill of fare provided at a feast given by Mucius Lentulus Niger, at which Cæsar assisted. "Before the dinner proper came sea-hedgehogs, fresh oysters (as many as the guests wished), large mussels, sphondili, field-fares, with asparagus, fattened fowls, oyster and mussel pasties, black and white sea-acorns, sphondili again, glycimarides, sea-nettles, becaficoes, roe-ribs, boar's ribs, fowls dressed with flour, becaficoes, purple shell-fish of two sorts. The dinner itself consisted of sow's udder, boar's head, fish-pasties, boar-pasties, ducks, boiled teals, hares, roasted fowls, starch pastry, Pontic pastry."

JUSTICE COURT.

FRIDAY, Sept. 3.

The complaint against James O'Keefe and George Quarry for an alleged assault upon William Brown, the watchman at the depot of the Old Colony Steamboat Company on the Long wharf on the night of the fifteenth ultimo:—

Three witnesses were examined for the prosecution, Mr. James J. Smith one of the musical party, Michael O'Connell who in the trial of the other parties arraigned for this assault testified that the two respondents O'Keefe and Quarry were the assaulting parties, and Officer Denman.

Smith's direct testimony and identification of the respondents was somewhat shaken by the cross-examination of their counsel E. C. Pierce, Esq., of Providence, and O'Connell, while fully identifying the parties, saw no assault.

The respondents were called to the witness stand and swore that Mr. Brown used very abusive language towards them and attempted to strike O'Keefe when Quarry shoved the latter out of Brown's way and that Brown fell over.

Mr. Brown, the assaulted, was called for the defence, but could not positively swear to the identity of the respondents as the assaulting parties.

John Highland testified that he was expecting to come on the boat that Sunday morning and had informed O'Keefe of that fact, and thus accounted for O'Keefe's presence there.

Skelley who keeps a boarding house testified to the good character of O'Keefe as a peaceable and industrious man and the general good character and quiet and industrious demeanor of the respondents, as confirmed also by the testimony of Officer Steele, was strongly urged in their defence by their counsel, and that being on the wharf on their legitimate business and were first attacked by Mr. Brown with abusive language and that it was unprovoked by any act of the respondents who simply shoved him out of the way, but that the government had entirely failed to identify them as the perpetrators of the violent assault on Mr. Brown, even he himself failing to fix the assault upon them, and that they had no motive to do anything more than what they allowed in their own testimony to ward off abuse from themselves which any one would naturally do, but that they committed no assault and no proof had been offered to established the contrary conclusion.

Mr. Sheffield for the prosecution said that Mr. Brown who was witness for the defence, swore positively that he was assaulted violently and knocked down and beaten by two men, and that the respondents by their own testimony have sworn to admissions which make it highly probable that the two respondents are the parties who committed the assault, and there is no proof that any others could by any possibility have been the guilty parties, Quarry himself swearing that he struck Brown, although in self-defence, and O'Keefe's language to Officer Denman when he was arrested, "that if they did not get the other man he would have to stand the whole thing," would tend to confirm and establish the fact, that O'Keefe and Quarry and nobody else committed the assault, and Mr. Sheffield urged the court to bind them over to the grand jury of the supreme court in order that men placed in responsible positions like Mr. Brown, may be protected.

The court adjudged the respondents to be probably guilty and ordered them to enter into recognizance in the sum of $100 for their appearance at the supreme court on the 21st instant.

THE STEEPLECHASES.—The steeplechases will begin tomorrow at half past three o'clock at Sachuest point. As one approaches the bluff the tiny red and white flags which mark the steeplechase course and approaches are to be seen. The land lies almost north and south, and is washed by the waves on three sides. This neck of land is divided into fields by stone walls, almost into squares, and is covered mostly with thick, green turf. On the eastern side of the neck are the stands, one for the judges and another for subscribers and others. From there, or indeed from the stone walls, the whole course can be traced by means of the flags.

The horses will start from the judges' stand, taking the first wall to the northward, about 100 yards distant. They will then follow along the eastern shore, taking the walls and hurdles in the course marked out, and return southward after a gradual turn, taking about ten jumps, the same as in the first half, including the water leap opposite the grand stand. The races may be seen throughout from the walls or from an ordinary carriage, for the site is so admirable that one can stand on any part of the turf and yet see a mile of the race track.

This is declared by some of the most competent turfmen to be the finest site for steeplechasing in the country. The turf is thick, the climate is delightful, the ascents and descents gradual, and it has more the appearance of good old-fashioned English hunting fields than a race course.

The following are the weights for the handicap steeple chase:—

THE TORPEDO EXPERIMENTS.

GRAND SUCCESS OF YESTERDAY'S EXPERIMENTS IN SUBMARINE WARFARE.—ARTIFICIAL GEYSERS OF SHORT DURATION, BUT SPLENDID PROPORTIONS.—A SCHOONER SHOWS HOW OUR ENEMIES' MEN-OF-WAR WILL GO UP WHEN THE TIME COMES.

The torpedo experiments of yesterday were highly satisfactory to Secretary Robeson, Admiral Porter and all the other naval officials who were present. The day was all that could be desired and early in the morning the whole island was astir. The officers and students were dressed in full uniform and seemed to feel that it was to be a red letter day in their history.

About seventy-five invited guests were on hand by 10 o'clock and were transported to the island in the steam launches. Among the guests present were the Secretary of the Navy, Admirals Porter, Reynolds, Rodgers, and A. L. Case, G. S. Nicholas, Isaiah Hanscomb, chief of the naval bureau of construction, Gen. Hunt of Fort Adams, the Hon. George Bancroft, the historian, Col. T. W. Higginson, Baron du Jardin, secretary of the Belgian legation, Mrs. Judge Field of Washington, R. M. Hunt, C. H. Russell, Ex-Gov. E. D. Morgan, Royal Phelps, George Tiffany, Gen. R. B. Potter, W. H. Ashhurst, the Hon. W. B. Lawrence, Gen. A. E. Burnside, Senator H. B. Anthony, Senator Cragin of New Hampshire, the Rev. M. McAllister of Elizabeth, N. J., F. W. Andrews, R. M. Mason, Dr. I. W. Francis, the Hon. Samuel Powel, Prof. W. B. Rogers, Norman Weird, of the "Weird gun," Sidney Brooks, M. Grip of the Turkish and Amedee Van Denest of the Belgian legations and others.

The first explosions were a salute in honor of Secretary Robeson, nineteen in number. They were set off from the shore at intervals of six seconds and were regulated automatically by a pendulum which was placed on a table and connected by the usual magnetic appliances for torpedoes fired from the shore. They contained tin cans of 10 pounds of powder each and when fired, the water being shallow, the spectacle was magnificent as they threw up huge columns of water. The secretary stated that this was the best salute he ever was honored with. They served to show that they could be successfully planted at the entrance of a harbor and discharged at will and that it was not necessary to fire them in rotation but they could be fired from different points as was the case with the secretary's salute.

A boat, or toy torpedo was next exploded the distance being about 100 yards and it showed how effective they were at such an unusual distance as they are only intended to be exploded from a boat's spar. The next experiment was with a 100 pound torpedo in deep water, which stirred up the harbor for a long distance and also sent a huge mass of water upward.

The celebrated Lay torpedo was next experimented with and it never worked better than on this occasion. It was steered directly to a raft which was moored in the inner harbor. It did not strike it fair but enough to blow one half of it into kindling wood with a 25 pound torpedo. This Lay torpedo may be a torpedo itself or have one attached to it. It contains a propelling and standing apparatus moved by electricity and is worked by an electric wire and four keys, one to start, one to stop, one to go to starboard and one to go to port. The secretary stated that he was more than pleased with its workings and that although the apparatus was old it could hardly be excelled. Mr. Lay, he stated, had perfected another one which with some improvements he thought would be even better than his first invention.

The Ericsson torpedo, which is not owned by Uncle Sam, was the next on the programme and the company all repaired to the Nina, from whose side it was started. This huge missile of warfare is propelled by compressed air pumped through a rubber hose. It went out a distance of 400 yards and soon after starting settled down to work and propelled itself along quietly and made but little noise. In fact an enemy's ship would hardly hear it and before they could get out of her way they would be blown higher than a kite. It worked entirely satisfactorily and it is anticipated that the right to manufacture it will be purchased by the government.

Six submarine torpedoes containing 10 to 40 pounds of powder each were exploded, different ladies touching the keys which ignited the fuses. Each threw a column of water a distance of from 300 to 600 feet high, owing to the fact that they were in shoal water.

After this 77 dozen of Farmer's igniters were touched off instantaneously to prove that any number of torpedoes could be exploded at will.

A steam launch with two 75 pound torpedoes attached to a couple of spars across her bow went out, but she steamed so fast that when one of the spars was lowered into the water it broke off in the mud, and lost the torpedo. The other went off all right and had a vessel been above it it would have sunk her at once.

The Nina was next brought into use and steamed south with a spar torpedo containing 100 pounds of powder which it exploded in good style to show that when pursued by an enemy's ship the spar could be run out and the torpedo used to blow up the pursuer.

The Harvey torpedo, the invention of Capt. Harvey of the English navy, was placed in tow of the Nina and coming in contact with a moored obstacle knocked it to pieces effectually. This torpedo is of very irregular shape in a wooden box with a copper tank containing the powder. It tows off a ship's side on a line, usually 50 fathoms long, which when it slackens, goes underneath the enemy's bottom and coming up presses a lever which sets fire to the powder.

Two improvised torpedoes which were made up on the spot by one of the officers were next fired to demonstrate the fact that they could be gotten up at a short notice. One was made up in a jug and the other in a bottle.

Three submarine torpedoes were then exploded by means of a circuit closer and as the steam launch passed over the spot they went off and presented a magnificent spectacle.

A mine containing 69 pounds of dynamite was exploded under a raft composed of logs 16 inches in diameter, riveted and spiked in a most thorough manner intended to be an invulnerable object against attack. But it was blown into atoms, the debris being sent up 400 feet and falling in all directions.

A one hundred pound nitro-glycerine torpedo was next exploded, in 30 feet of water, and owing to the depth of water, it did not throw much of a column of water, but answered the purpose intended. The fishes leaped to the surface in all directions and afterward the shore was lined with them in a stupefied condition.

Next came the blowing up of a 30 ton schooner for which all had been anxiously waiting. It was anchored in the outer harbor and in the immediate vicinity a hundred boats were to be seen of all descriptions but which were kept at a proper distance by the steam launches. The torpedoes used contained 300 pounds of powder and 200 pounds of dynamite (¾ nitro glycerine and ¼ sand) and when it was exploded the concussion was very loud. A huge mass of water, dirt and debris was all that could be seen, but when it cleared away the harbor for a long distance was covered with a mass of splinters, hardly large enough for kindling wood. It was a magnificent spectacle far exceeding the experiments of last year. The visitors gave vent to their feeling in loud applause. The key to the wire which ignited the fuse was touched by Mrs. Judge Field of Washington and as Secretary Robeson escorted her to the key board, he said, "Ladies and gentlemen, we shall now see the power of the ladies for blowing up."

After the experiments the company repaired to a tent near the commandant's residence where a sumptuous banquet had been prepared through the hospitality of Capt. Breese and to which all did ample justice. Mr. G. T. Downing furnished everything in the eatable line that could be desired and he deserves great credit as do also those who assisted him in getting up such a spread at such a distance from his place of business.

MRS. HICKS'S DINNER.—Our handsome countrywoman, Mrs. Hicks, continues to astonish the Londoners with her gorgeous hospitality as well as with her beauty. Mrs. Hicks, as is already known, occupies the handsomest apartments of the most exclusive and fashionable hotel in London, and at this place, writes Donn Piatt, she gave the other day a dinner party that indicates the height in which our American eagle of the female persuasion soared with a grace not given to the proud male bird who screams so dismally when he does soar. Covers were laid for forty guests, and among them were Baron Penedo, the Brazilian minister; the Netherland's minister and countess de Bylandt, the earl and countess of Stadbroke, Viscount Campden, Viscountess Strangford, Lord and Lady Camoys, Lord and Lady Stourton, Lord Houghton, Lord and Lady O'Hagan, Lady Herbert, of Lea, baroness de Hugel, Sir John and Hon Lady Sebright, Mr. and Lady Constance Bellingham, Lieut. Gen. Sir Francis Seymour, Admiral Sir Augustus Clifford, Col. Chesebrough, Vice Admiral Sir Hastings Yelverton, Gen. Badeau, and Monsignor Capel. Mrs. Hicks's laces and diamonds on the occasion were something immense, while her beauty carried them in a way to frame her in, as it were, like some gem of a painting surrounded by that only which brought it out in a better light. Small wonder noble families claimed her for the Summer, and high lords with embarrassed acres offered her their hands and hearts in marriage. It is suggested that the happy snobs of Washington who sneered at the fascinating Hicks in times past must feel ridiculous.

IS YOUR LIFE WORTH 10 CENTS?

Sickness prevails everywhere, and everybody complains of some disease during their life. When sick, the object is to get well; we say plainly that no person in this world that is suffering with Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint and its effects, such as Indigestion, Costiveness, Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Heart-burn, Palpitation of the Heart, Depressed Spirits, Biliousness, &c., can take Green's August Flower without getting relief and cure. If you doubt this, go to your Druggist James H. Taylor and get a Sample Bottle for 10 cents and try it. Regular size 75 cents. Two doses will relieve you.

A Hint to the Lean.

The cause of leanness, when there is no positive disease which produces it, is an imperfect assimilation of the food. The weight of the body undoubtedly bears a marked relation to, and increases proportionately to its height, when it is properly nourished with flesh making blood. Hence, when we see a tall person with "slab" sides and hollow cheeks, we have a right to infer that his blood is thin and watery and his constitution delicate. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is peculiarly serviceable to thin, delicate people, since it strengthens the digestive and assimilative organs, and is consequently a powerful auxiliary in the blood manufacturing processes, which in a state of health ought to be, and are, thoroughly performed. An increase of muscles, as well as fat, is a result of using this sovereign anti-dyspeptic, appetizing and generally corrective cordial. aug31 1w-n&j

The whole system is kept in a healthy condition by occasionally partaking of Hunt's Remedy. By the curative properties of this medicine dropsy, Bright's disease, kidney, bladder and glandular complaints, diabetes, gravel, incontinence and retention of urine, female irregularities, nervous debility, errors of youth or mature age, excesses, intemperance, and maladies of the urino-genital organs are entirely expelled from the system, and the patient is restored to health. sept1-n&j

MANY who are suffering from the effects of the warm weather and are debilitated, are advised by physicians to take moderate amounts of whisky two or three times during the day. In a little while those who adopt this advice frequently increase the number of "drinks," and in time become confirmed inebriates. A beverage which will not create thirst for intoxicating liquors, and which is intended especially for the benefit of debilitated persons, whether at home or abroad, is Dr. Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic. Containing the juices of many medicinal herbs, this preparation does not create an appetite for the intoxicating cup. The nourishing and the life-supporting properties of many valuable natural productions contained in it and well known to medical men have a most strengthening influence. A single bottle of the Tonic will demonstrate its valuable qualities. For debility arising from sickness, over exertion or from any cause whatever, a wineglassful of Sea Weed Tonic taken after meals will strengthen the stomach and create an appetite for wholesome food. To all who are about leaving their homes, we desire to say that the excellent effects of Dr. Schenck's seasonable remedies, Sea Weed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills, are particularly evident when taken by those who are injuriously affected by a change of water and diet. No person should leave home without taking a supply of these safeguards along. For sale by all druggists. aug6-1m

GENERAL NEWS

FROM WASHINGTON.

Disappointed Depositors.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.

Yesterday and today a large number of depositors of the Freedmen's Savings Bank crowded the rooms of that institution expecting to receive a dividend of 25 per cent., having been misled by an unauthorized newspaper statement that such a dividend would be made on the first of September, but these depositors were informed by the clerks that the dividend would not be declared before Christmas, the requisite sum, namely $75,000, for that purpose having yet to be realized.

Trains Delayed.

The 9:03 and 10:15 trains of last night to Baltimore and the North, over the Baltimore and Potomac Railroad, were delayed until 3 o'clock this morning, owing to the engine of last night's 7:10 Western train running into a cow near Bowie, between Washington and Baltimore, throwing the baggage car from the track and demolishing one of the trucks. No person was injured. The Southern Express, due here at 11 o'clock, arrived at 3:05, and the through New York Express about ten minutes afterward.

FROM NEW YORK.

Suit Against a Banking Company.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.

Judge John R. Brady of the supreme court has granted an order of publication in the suit of Diexel, Morgan & Co. vs. the California Bank to recover $25,000 in gold on affidavits that the defendant is a foreign corporation, whose president is dead, whose cashier lives in San Francisco and which has no officer in this state on whom service could be made. The suit is not for deposits, but on a circular note.

Steam Navigation.

The national board of steam navigation listened today to a report endorsing the bill before Congress requiring the stamping of boiler plates and the guaranteeing of the quality and strength thereof by the manufacturers. The report recommends measures to be taken to procure the passage of said bill by the next Congress. The report was adopted.

CONNECTICUT.

Accident on the Shore Line Railroad—Two Passengers Injured.

NEW HAVEN, Sept. 2.

The Shore Line train due in this city from New London at 9.40 A. M., struck a cow one mile east of Saybrook. The rear truck of the baggage car was thrown off and a length of rail torn up. All the cars but the last one kept the track. That was dragged 60 feet on its side before it uncoupled itself.

There were ten passengers inside, including the conductor, Philip Atwood. All were severely shaken up, but the following are the only ones wounded: Gouverneur Morris of Morrisiana, two ribs broken. His nephew received a severe gash over the left eye; his niece a severe spinal injury. Medical attendance was procured from Saybrook, and the railroad company placed a special engine at the disposal of the through passengers, so that but little time was lost. The track was quickly repaired, and trains are now running as usual.

BROWN UNIVERSITY.—The corporation of Brown University held its annual meeting yesterday. The committee on the erection of a building for the library reported that contracts had been made for the basement of the building and the work is already begun, with a prospect that the entire expense would come within the sum of $80,000, to which it is limited. The minimum of attainments required to pass an examination was raised from twenty-five to fifty per cent. After the commencement of 1876, the courses of study for candidates for bachelor of philosophy are to be extended through four years instead of three, and after the commencement of 1877, only certificates of proficiency will be granted to those who come to college with no knowledge of Latin. The advisory and executive committee were authorized to examine the expenses incident to commencement, and to make such reductions as they find to be possible.—[Providence Journal, 2d.

OLD SOLDIERS' STORY.

Several powder-begrimed veterans gathered in a certain police station the other evening, says the Louisville Courier-Journal, to keep out of the rain for a few minutes, and while there discussed the late war.

"I remember," says one, "that a bullet passed clear through George Gray's body and never killed him."

"I recollect," said another, "that a ball lodged in Bill Payson's lung and never was taken out, but he lived."

"I," said a third, "know well when the doctors thought Henry Hill's life was gone up as a 'minie' lodged within an inch of his heart, but he lived."

"Jake Johnson's head was pierced by a ball, and he lived," exclaimed the last man but one. These remarks produced considerable surprise and excited speech from all save a tall, slim, and sleepy individual, who waited till his companions concluded, and then drawled, in piping accents: "Those fellows was a little tough, I allow; but Jim Jones, who fit aside of me, was shot in the neck so that his head jist hung by the skin."

"Great heavens!" ejaculated all; "you don't mean to say he lived, do you?"

"Oh, no: he died," drawled slim and sleepy.

NEW FUEL,

PREPARED COKE.

BROKEN TO STOVE SIZE AND CAREFULLY SCREENED.

A Chaldron contains

more fuel than the same measure of common coke.

Prepared coke is ready to hand for a quick fire in the morning, or to hurry a sluggish fire. For kindling fires it is nearly equal to charcoal; and for a bright intense fire for broiling it is quite equal to the latter.

All trouble of breaking up coke and the consequent loss, and accumulation of dust is avoided by the use of prepared coke.

In order to introduce this new and convenient fuel, we shall offer it for the present at

$5.00 PER CHALDRON

of 36 bushels delivered.

At this price, by reason of the compactness in measuring, and the saving in labor and loss by breaking, the prepared coke is cheaper than the unbroken.

For furnaces, grates, boilers &c., the unbroken coke at

$4.00 PER CHALDRON

is a cheap and convenient fuel.

Cash orders will receive prompt attention at the Newport Daily News.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1875.

A SHOWER OF HAY.—Dr. Hawtrey Benson, of Dublin, describes a remarkable shower of small pieces of hay which he witnessed at Monkstown. It appeared in the form of "a number of dark flocculent bodies floating slowly down through the air from a great height, appearing as if falling from a very heavy dark cloud which hung over the house." The pieces of hay picked up were wet, "as if a very heavy dew had been deposited on it. The average weight of the larger flocks was probably not more than one or two ounces, and from that all sizes were perceptible, down to a simple blade. The air was very calm, with a gentle undercurrent from southeast; the clouds were moving in an upper current from south-southwest." The air was tolerably warm and dry, and the phenomenon is thus accounted for by J. W. Moore: "The coincidence of a hot sun and two air currents probably caused the development of a whirlwind some distance to the south of Monkstown. By it the hay was raised into the air, to fall as already described, over Monkstown and the adjoining district."

PALACE HOTEL,

SAN FRANCISCO.

Summer and Winter Resort.

The thermometer at San Francisco ranging in Summer from 60 to 70 degrees Fahrenheit, and in Winter from 50 to 60, the climate is of the most salubrious character, giving to travellers a most cheering welcome at any season that they may arrive.

PALACE HOTEL,

350x275 feet, covers 96,250 square feet of land, making it the Most Spacious Hotel in the World.

Its commodious and elegant character is assured by the fact that, in the inception of the enterprise, the owners, WILLIAM C. RALSTON, Esq., and Hon. WILLIAM SHARON, instructed their architect to visit the hotels of the principal cities in the United States and Europe for the express purpose of including in the plans of the PALACE all existing improvements, and such additional ones that experience and observation had suggested, they desiring it to be a Palatial Hotel in Every Respect.

The location is THE BEST IN THE CITY, being at the junction of the Main Thoroughfares.

The PALACE is seven stories high, most substantially built, and Fire-proof in all Essential Points.

The lower story is 25 feet high, the others 14 and 16 feet.

All walls and partitions throughout the Hotel are built of Stone and Brick, laid in Cement, and banded together with Iron.

There are Three Inner Courts, the centre one being 144x84, covered with glass at height of building, with Carriage and Promenade Entrance from the street of 44 feet width, and having a Circle Driveway of 54 feet diameter, that being surrounded by a marble-tiled Promenade and a

Tropical Garden,

Having Exotic Plants,

Statuary, and Fountains.

Fronting the Centre Court from every story, and upon its entire boundary, there are

Verandas, 12 feet wide, Illuminated by Standard Lights at each pillared section, and from the Garden Level to the Veranda of the second floor is an Elegant Staircase, ornamented at its various landings with Statuary and Flower Vases. Midway up this staircase is the approach to the Music Pavilion for the use of the Instrumental Band

(to be exclusively employed in the Hotel.)

From the Centre Court is the Main Entrance to the Hotel Office, that room being 55x65, as also entrance to

Breakfast Room, 110x55;

Dining-Room, 150x55;

Ball and Music Room, 65x55;

Ladies' Reception Room, 40x40;

Reading Room, 40x40;

Committee Rooms,

and other general apartments, used in common by hotel patrons, all these rooms having other convenient entrances.

On Second Floor are

Ladies' Drawing Room, 81x40; Children's Dining Hall and Private Dining Rooms.

The rooms for guests are equally well finished and furnished, and arranged for use, either singly or in suites of two or more, they being so approached and connected that a suite of any number can be had, possessing

All the Advantages of a Private Dwelling.

All Outer Rooms have a Bay Window, and every room a Fire-place, a Clothes-closet, and Toilet Room, and to every two rooms there is a Bath Room.

The total number of rooms in the PALACE, above the Garden Floor, exclusively for the use of guests—most of them being 20 feet square, and none of less size than 16x16—are 755.

Each floor has its Own Annunciator

with its special service in constant attendance, also a tube receptacle for

Letters for Post-Office,

all leading to the main Letter Box in the General Office. There is a Pneumatic Dispatch Tube,

by which messages and parcels can be instantaneously sent to any point on the different floors.

All the rooms have approach or entrance from the Arcades, furnished by the existence of the three Inner Courts, thereby giving to all interior rooms

Fresh Air and Sunlight.

The system of Ventilation applied to all the rooms, including the Bath and Toilet rooms, is perfect, there being a total number of 2,042 Ventilating tubes opening outward on the roof of the Hotel; each one coming from some particular room or closet. And for each room there is special provision made to admit the fresh air.

Upon the Garden Floor of the Palace there is an Arcade Promenade, 12 feet wide, with entrances to all of the stores under the Hotel, each one having a Show Window upon the Promenade.

The Palace Hotel is Elegantly Furnished, equally well upon every floor, and is complete in extent of detail as the comfort of patrons can desire. In addition to being Fire-proof, as mentioned, the arrangement for protection against fire is perfect, the Hotel having

Four Artesian Wells,

a Reservoir under the garden plot—holding capacity being 630,000 gallons—Steam Engines, Steam Pumps, and a supply of 14,570 feet of hose, which, with is located at convenient stations upon each floor of the building.

Fire Apparatus Complete,

In every room and passageway throughout the Hotel there is a thermostatic bulb, by which an extra degree of heat existing will be announced at the general office, upon a dial, stating the exact locality, making thereby a Complete Fire Alarm Guard.

The Watchman's Tell-tale Indicator, in the office, faithfully reports the intervals of the watchman upon his regular rounds, both day and night, and in other respects indicate the method and manner of his attention to duty.

There are Five Elevators and Seven Stairways leading from Garden Floor to the Upper Story. There is a Solid Iron Staircase, enclosed by brick, which leads from basement to upper story, having openings only on each floor.

The Elevators are worked by Hydraulic Power, and while the most desirable speed is attained they are securely safe and noiseless, and in every way free from all the objections that have heretofore prevailed with similar conveyances.

The Salubrious and Equable Character of the Climate,

(the thermometer at San Francisco, in Summer, ranging from 60 to 70 degrees Fahrenheit, and in Winter from 50 to 60 degrees,) extend such an inviting welcome to travellers, that every endeavor has been made to have the PALACE fully harmonize with it in its attractive features, by combining the comforts and conveniences of American and European hotels, with the greatly prized luxuries of Oriental life.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Mr. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part, leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
